Last Saturday, February 5, Coalition LA leaders had their annual meeting at the new Coalition LA offices on 318 S. Alvarado St. Leaders from our different neighborhood unions came to listen an annual report and elect the board of directors for year 2011-2012. During the meeting leaders discussed problems that affect their communities and ways to organize and engage people in CoLA neighborhood unions as a way to find solutions together. Leaders also highlighted the good work around the Westlake Theater project and our work to stop dozens of evictions in their areas.

The new elected board reaffirmed their commitment to the mission and vision of Coalition LA and to work hard with the community to ensure we continue our projects and civic participation engagement program. They announced that a Coalition LA board and leaders retreat will follow this annual meeting to evaluate our strategic plan and to include new elements that leaders consider important for the planning of the next five years.
